Sod turnings mark official start of hospital projects

There were some high ranking politicians slinging mud in the Haliburton Highlands last Friday, but in this case it was for a very good cause.

The Haliburton Highlands Health Services hosted sod turning ceremonies in Minden and Haliburton to mark the start of major renovations and expansion of the two area hospitals. The ceremonies were over-seen by Victoria-Haliburton MP John O'Reilly, Victoria-Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson, Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey, and the newly appointed Provincial Minister of Health, Elizabeth Witmer along with representatives from the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board of Directors.

"It has been a long time coming. This is an important project for our community," said Chris Hodgson at the ground breaking held at Hyland Crest in Minden. "This is the result of everyone working together and working as a team."

The MPP paid tribute to a number of individuals who played major roles in taking the health facilities visions from planning through to reality. Among them were:

- Barb Dawson who spear-headed the initial hospital expansion campaign in Haliburton 18 years ago and who,

Ontario Health Minister Elizabeth Witmer and MPP Chris Hodgson send a shovelful of Highlands turf flying as they officially launch construction of Minden's new hospital and a renovated Hyland Crest long-term care facility. Also taking part in the ceremony were Hugh Nicholl, left, Chair of the Health Services Board, MP John O'Reilly, Past President of the Health Services Board Paul Heffer and Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey.

despite her disappointment in seeing it side-tracked, returned to assist in the planning and development of these two projects.

- The late Stuart Baker, the first chair of the Haliburton Highlands Health Service

Board, an individual who saw the possibility which existed in the opportunity presented by the Ministry of Health.

- the current chair of the HHHS Hugh Nicholl, who, Hodgson pointed out, had set as one of his goals the start of the capital works projects, a goal fulfilled with the turning of the sod.

- HHHS board member Doug Campbell, a strong and vocal advocate for community health care. "Doug and I have had our disagreements over the years," Hodgson commented, "but I know, while we may have had our differences, we shared the same objective." He noted that Campbell was unable to attend the ceremonies due to ill health.

No classes today as teachers back protest with strike

(Recognizing that the issue reported below is a fluid one, readers should be aware that this report was prepared Saturday afternoon. Conditions may have changed dramatically since this report was written.)

While schools in Haliburton County will be "technically" open today, parents are being asked not to send their children to the facilities. The doors of the schools will be unlocked and the principals and vice principals will be inside the buildings, but it is unlikely that any teachers will be in their classrooms.

Teachers throughout the Highlands are expected to heed the call of their federations and not go to work, to demonstrate their objection to a number of provisions in the provincial government's Bill 160, legislation which will totally revamp the way education is governed and funded in the province.

Parents were advised through a letter sent home with the students last Thursday that bus services would not be operating in the county and parents were requested to keep the children at home.

"The Ministry of Education has asked us to keep the schools open," Director of Education Brad Saunders explained on Friday. "I have just come from a meeting with the principals and they and the vice principals will be in the schools on Monday."

The letter to the parents said in part, "We know that this strike will cause significant difficulty for many of you in trying to find child care as you go to work. But, our first obligation as a board is to ensure safe schools for your children. Without our staff, we can't."

Saunders indicated that the board will be studying the situation one day at a time. If enough staff decides to go to work, there could be a call for a return to classes, however for the moment he doesn't expect the schools to be able to offer classes for the children.

Chris Lynd president of the Haliburton Women Teachers feels there is solid support for the position the unions have taken in opposing the bill. "I haven't heard from anyone who has declared that they are going in and while I'm reluctant to say at this point that it will be 100% across the county, I feel we are close to that."

Her federation and the two others representing teachers in the county believe in what their leaders in Toronto are doing, Lynd said. "We all feel very strongly about this unjust bill," she commented.

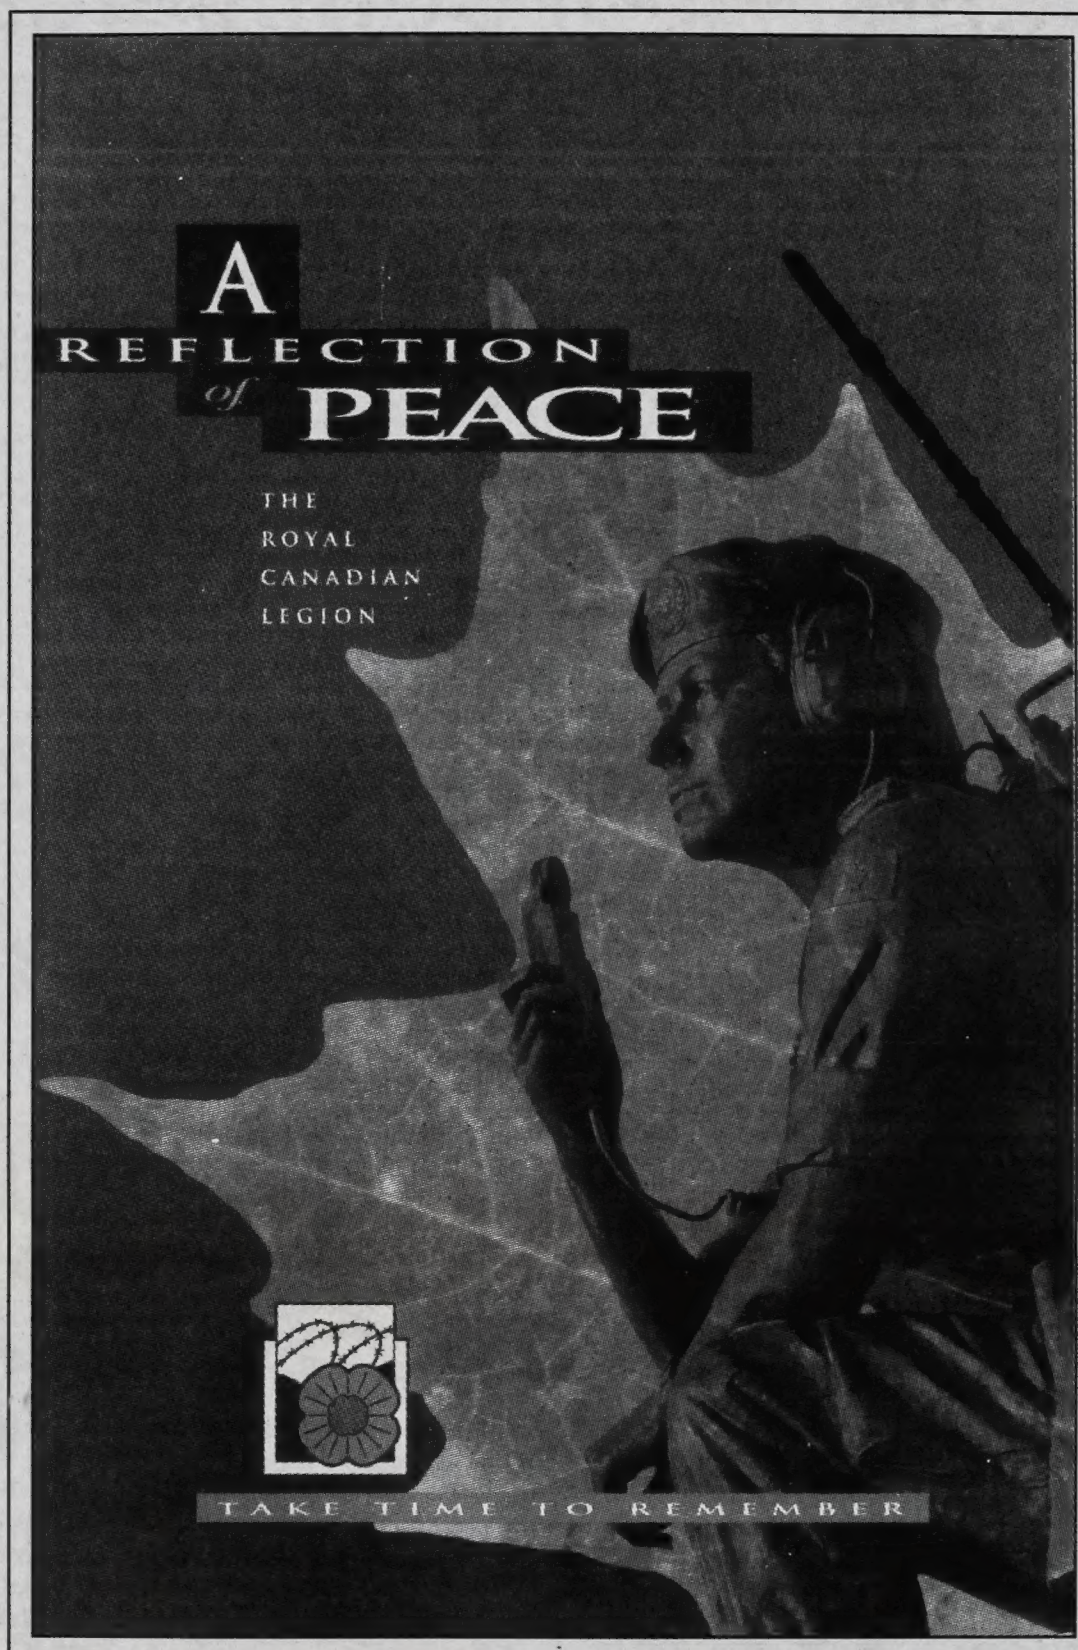

Lynda also acknowledged that the teachers' action will inconvenience many people. "We regret that, but feel we must speak out on this bill and hope people will understand."

Chamber of Commerce honours citizens and business of the year

by Ariel White

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce announced its choices for this year's Business of the Year and Highlanders of the Year at the annual general meeting Wednesday at Pinestone Resort.

Both awards were given to individuals who have served their clients and the community for more than twenty years.

Gordon A. Monk was astounded when his funeral business was chosen as the business of the year. "I feel very humbled. I was quite surprised," said Monk.

The Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home has been a part of the Minden business community since Gord and his wife Donna took over the John Welch & Son Funeral Home in 1975. The Monks also own a funeral home in Bobcaygeon.

Over the years the funeral home has become a family business. The Monks son Cameron, his wife Linda, daughter Kirsten and her husband Barry Cray work for the company. There are plans in place for the children to take over both the Minden and Bobcaygeon locations next year.

When they are not busy with the funeral home, Gord and Donna Monk keep their calendars full with their many community projects. Donna co-ordinates fundraising in Minden for the CNIB, is a member of the Haliburton Highlands Learning Programme as well as an active member of the Minden United Church. She has also been the president of the Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts and a member of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Recreation board and Public Utilities Board.

Gord was once a member of the Minden Kinsmen Club and a past Master of the Arcadia Masonic Lodge and holds an office with the Grand Lodge of Ontario. He has coached and refereed minor hockey and was the County Referee in Chief. Monk was also selected the Citizen of the year in 1992 by the Minden Rotary Club.

Two share Highlander of the Year honours

This year's Highlander of the year award was a double honour as the Chamber of Commerce chose two very special people to receive the annual tribute.

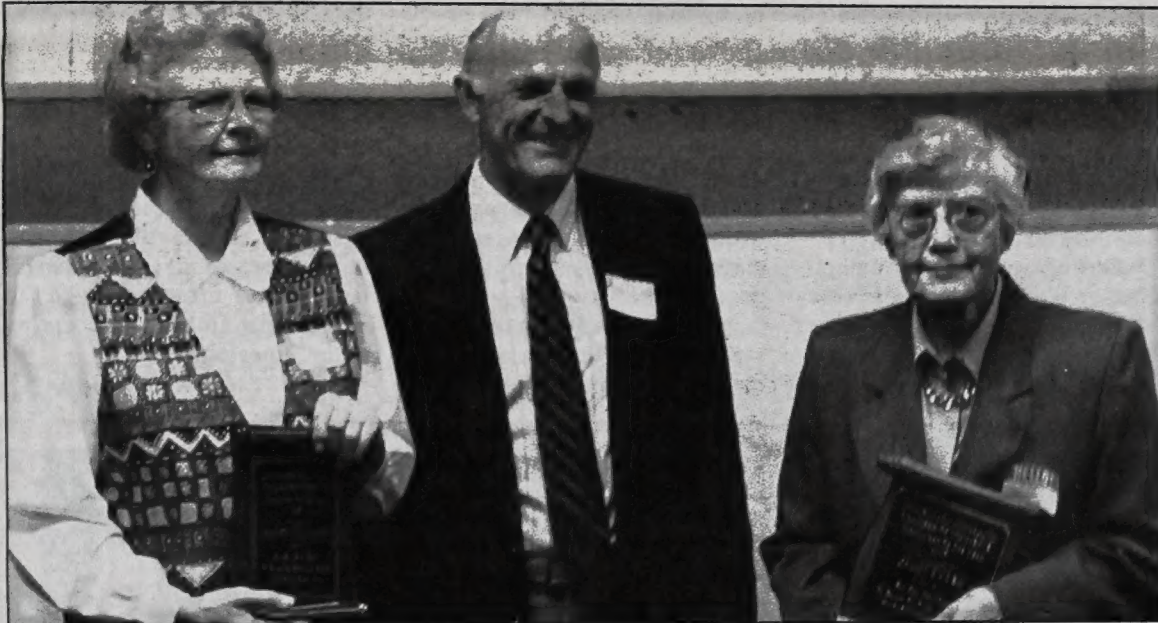

Jean Tyler and Marion Tallman have both worked for the community as nurses in various capacities. The two friends had no idea they were this years recipients and were both grateful for the honour. "It was quite a surprise," said Jean Tyler. "I don't think that you realize at the time that you get back far more than you give."

Jean Tyler joined the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital in 1950. She was then hired by the Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit at its inception in 1969. Now retired, Jean stays busy as a volunteer with Extendicare in Haliburton.

Marion Tallman joined the Wilberforce Red Cross in 1950 as a public health nurse. In 1959 she moved to the Haliburton County School Nursing Service. After working for the Haliburton and Bancroft Hospitals as well as the Hastings County Health Unit, Tallman joined the Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit in 1969. Eventually she transferred to Homecare where she remained until her retirement in 1993.

When asked why she dedicated so much of herself to the community Tallman replied simply, "Haliburton is my home. This is where my family is."

- HHHS executive director Foster Loucks for his hard work and dedication to the project.

- District Health Council representative and former chair of the Planning and Development Committee Jack Brezina.

- and former board member, the late Joyce Gostock.

As well, Hodgson had praise for the continued encouragement of Warden Murray Fearrey and Haliburton County Council, for their moral and financial support.

New facilities

The construction marks the start of plans to relocate the Minden Hospital to the Hyland Crest site, utilizing a portion of the existing Hyland Crest building. A new 62 bed long term care facility will be built on the location. Some of the existing facilities will be used to service both the long-term care and hospital portions of the consolidated health services.

Hodgson thanked the Haliburton Highlands Health Services board and the people of Minden for years of dedication to the endeavour. The upgrade of health facilities in the Highlands has been a work in progress since 1979. It was put on hold in the mid-eighties when the then Minister of Health Eleanor Caplan, requested further study be done before the project could proceed. Haliburton County Warden Murray Fearrey joked that Caplan was now 10 years late for the ground breaking ceremony.

Health Minister Elizabeth Witmer chose the Minden site for her first official event under her new portfolio. Both Hodgson and Witmer received new posts in the last provincial cabinet shuffle.

Witmer complimented the community for its dedication and long term effort. "Today is a day you can all be proud of. I want to congratulate your vision, your determination and commitment," she said.

After the official ceremony in Minden, a convoy of officials journeyed to the Haliburton Hospital where a similar ground-breaking was held. Improvements in Haliburton will see the expansion of the hospital's acute care capacity to 13 beds and the addition of a 30 bed long term care facility.

During his comments, County Warden Murray Fearrey pointed out the significance of improved health care facilities for the area. "Thank God this is going to happen. We are on the verge of really seeing substantial growth in Haliburton County," he said. The warden emphasized that quality health care facilities are required to ensure the continued prosperity of the area. The ground breaking ceremonies showed that these facilities will soon be a reality.

John O'Reilly agreed that a stable health care system is critical not only for current residents of the area but also seasonal residents, tourists and people who choose to retire in the Highlands. "I am well aware of how important it is to have good health care to attract people to the community," the federal politician stated. Mr. O'Reilly is a past member of Lindsay's Ross Memorial Hospital Board of Governors.

After the Haliburton sod turning ceremony, the cheerful but chilly crowd moved to warm up at an indoor reception at the Pinestone Resort.

Safety of students is the board's main concern

Saunders also noted that the potential for the support of the other unions, representing care takers and teaching assistants further clouds the issue. "If we do not have cleaning staff, we could have a potential health problem in the schools," he said, suggesting this was another reason for parents not to send their children to school.

He said that while the board will be examining the situation on a day-by day basis, he didn't feel that much would change during the first part of this week.

"I see there is strong support by the teachers for the position their leaders have taken and expect it will continue to be strong," he commented.

Saunders urged all parties in the dispute to exercise moderation. "We are trying to manage this situation with as little disruption as possible," he commented. "Remember that we'll all have to live and work together when this is all over."

Parents have been advised that any changes in the status of the schools will be announced over four area FM radio stations including: CBC 92.3; CHAY 93.1; CKQM 105.1 and Rock 95.95.7

Day Care subsidy

Saunders also reported that the board is somewhat confused by the offer of day care subsidy which is supposed to be available through the local boards. The province announced last week that it would be offering up to $40 per day for families who qualify, to help cover the extra cost of day care during the teachers' strike. According to the Ministry of Education, the amount is to be paid by the local boards from funds they are saving by not having to pay teachers.

Saunders said he has little to say about the announcement because he has not received any details from the provincial ministry on this matter. "This is just another pronouncement from the government, without the details....like we've seen before," Saunders said. "We don't know to whom we are to be paying this money, how or any details." Saunders suggested that parents who want to take advantage of this compensation offer should wait a bit before contacting the board office.

In contrast to the situation in Haliburton County, the Muskoka Board of Education has decided to not attempt to keep its schools open. According to a press release issued last Thursday, the Muskoka board said that principals will not be in the schools and so a total shut-down of the education system has been ordered.

Foundation kicks-off fund raising

While the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation has been in existence since the beginning of the year, the organization took advantage of the excitement surrounding the sod turning ceremonies to officially start its fund raising efforts.

Chair Dale Walker, the host of ceremonies at PineStone Resort, pointed out that the foundation, the fund raising arm of the Health Service Board, has three main aims. "The first, of course, is to raise the public portion of the two projects which were started today," she told the audience. She said while the fund raising will be concentrating on these two capital projects, the foundation will collect money for ongoing equipment needs at the two sites and for staff continuing education programs.

A number of major contribution and commitments were presented during the ceremonies including a $266,000 commitment from Haliburton County. Warden Murray Fearrey in making the presentation said, "This is a banner day for Haliburton County. This is a health care facility for the whole county, so let's all get behind it."

MPP Chris Hodgson repeated those sentiments, describing the ceremonies as a "turning point" for the county. He noted the provincial government had approved an expenditure of $10.4 million on the project several years ago and that commitment still stands. However, since costs have risen since that promise was first made, he suggested that the federal/provincial infrastructure program could be used to help fund the effort. He said an application for the new $13 million cost has been made to the program. He said he was bound by protocol not to reveal any details. "I can't announce anything yet," he told the audience, however hinting broadly that the project will be approved, he said the people may have another reason to celebrate in the near future.

Perhaps one of the most significant presentations was made by representatives of St. Joseph's Foundation in Peterborough. The hospital managed the two Highlands facilities from the early 1980's until the formation of the Health Services Board three years ago.

During that time a major fund-raising project was undertaken to pay the public portion of a chronic care addition to the Haliburton Hospital. That project was halted by the provincial government, but not before more than $400,000 had been raised by the community.

The funds were held by the Taking part in the presentation are, from the left Health services Board Chair Hugh Nicholl, Frank Lawless, a member of the St. Joseph's Foundation board, Mary Ann Shill, St. Joseph's Health Centre Executive Director, Ron Black, executive director St. Joseph's Foundation and Bill Lockington, Chair of the St. Joseph's Board of Directors.

St. Joseph's Foundation, much to the concern of some members of the community. Those concerns were put to rest on Friday as St. Joseph's Hospital and Foundation representatives presented a cheque for $773,000 representing the initial fund-raising amount, accumulated interest and other donations received by the foundation for the two facilities in the county while they were being managed by the Peterborough Hospital.

Chairman of the St. Joseph's Hospital Board, Bill Lockington, told the crowd it was his pleasure to bring greetings from his board, the foundation, the Sisters of St. Joseph and the people of Peterborough, wishing the new board good luck in its endeavours.

Lockington reminded the audience of the growing regional nature of health care and reiterated that he is looking forward to enjoying a close working relationship between the six hospitals in the district, including the two facilities in the Highlands.

A number of donations from services groups and private donations were then received by Dale Walker. (See photo outline on this page for details.)

Following the formal ceremonies, the public was invited to view the floor plans of the two facilities. Walker pointed out that a special table had been set up to accept any donations.

There seems to be an interest in making the marriage work in Galway-Cavendish & Harvey

by Ariel White

Some of the candidates running for the newly merged municipality of Galway-Cavendish and Harvey have conceded that council should at least try to make the "marriage" work before breaking it up. Many believe that there is nothing they can do about the merger at this time and that they should try to work together for a trial period before filing for divorce.

Two all-candidates meetings were held on Saturday October 18 at both the Cavendish and Buckhorn Community Centres. At the meeting held in Harvey township, the candidates running from Harvey made it clear that they felt that the only thing that could be done about the amalgamation of the townships was to attempt to work together and create an efficient and equally represented municipality.

"I believe that we should see how it goes and then re-evaluate the situation," said Audrey Coumbs who is running for Deputy Reeve and is currently the Deputy Reeve in Harvey Township. "If, after that, Galway-Cavendish felt they should join Haliburton County, I would go along with it. I do hope that we can all think positive and get our heads around the fact that we are one municipality."

Audrey Von Bogen has been on the Harvey council for one term and is now running to represent Harvey on the new council. She also believes that the politicians should work collectively before thoughts of separation are entertained. "This is perceived by many as a shot-gun wedding. Well folks it's a done deal. Let us get on with it. Let's live together before going our separate ways," said Von Bogen.

Driver will appear in court November 5

Charges have been laid in relation to a fatal motor vehicle collision which occurred August 9, 1997.

Terrance McIlmoyle, aged 40 years of Fraserville, Ontario has been charged with criminal negligence causing death, criminal negligence causing bodily harm, impaired operation of a motor vehicle causing death and impaired operation of a motor vehicle causing bodily harm. All charges are pursuant to the Criminal Code of Canada.

Mr. McIlmoyle has been released from custody and is scheduled to appear in court on November 5, 1997.

The accident occurred in the early morning hours of August 9 on Highway 118, Dysart Township. The collision claimed the life of Robert Sisson aged 18 years of Guilford Township, Haliburton. Robert Sisson was a passenger in a second vehicle which was in collision with the McIlmoyle vehicle. Four other persons were injured in the collision.

Galway-Cavendish and Harvey council hopefuls wait their turn to speak at an all-candidates meeting in Buckhorn: from the left, Bruce Tate, Ed Dewhurst, Guy Scott, Roy Hill, Mary Lou Bales, Audrey Von Bogen and John Snider.

Candidates hailing from Galway-Cavendish also want to work together on the amalgamated council, but they are adamant about making sure that the ratepayers of their townships are not overshadowed by the wants of Harvey Township. "Our first task is to meld our two municipalities into a single cohesive unit with equal representation," said the current Reeve of Galway-Cavendish, Oliver Lloyd.

It was suggested by Galway-Cavendish Deputy Reeve Peter Franzen that perhaps the new council could meet in all three townships in order to give all ratepayers equal access. Candidates for all positions generally agreed that they would be willing to convene wherever necessary.

The merged council will have a Reeve, Deputy Reeve, two Councillors who will represent Galway-Cavendish and Harvey townships as well as one Councillor at large.

New board will be selected by mail-in ballot

Chamber of Commerce AGM lacks quorum

It wasn't business as usual at this year's Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce Annual General Meeting at Pinestone Resort last Wednesday. Several points on the agenda could not be addressed as there were not enough members present to make up a quorum.

The constitution requires at least 35 businesses are represented at the annual meeting in order to decide such matters as nominating and electing members to the board of directors. According to the chamber there were only 25 businesses present.

The chamber has run into this problem several times in the past when special meetings were called to approve changes to the group's constitution. On two occasions the requisite number of members did not attend and no business could be conducted.

The members who were in attendance were told by General Manager Brian Dean that this year's election would have to be conducted through the mail. "This seems to be the way the membership works best," said Dean. All members of the chamber of commerce can expect to receive a ballot in the mail this week.

Despite the small numbers, the board went ahead with most of the items on the agenda, including the auditor's report and reports from the president and general manager.

Brian Dean described 1997 as "a very sullen year," but had a hopeful outlook for the future. "We have worked hard on the deficit. We know exactly what we're after and why we're doing it. This will be the way from here on in," said Dean. He also stated that the chamber had been able to eliminate 83 per cent of its deficit.

President Connie Sims thanked the executive for its support and hard work in the last couple of years. "We have been criticized, challenged, contended, contested; you name it, over the past two years but we are still champions for Haliburton County," she said.

After the presentation of this year's Business of the Year and Highlander of the Year awards (see story on page 3), a proposal was introduced to generate funds for the chamber of commerce.

General Manager Brian Dean outlined a proposition he received from artist David Alexander Risk earlier this year.

Risk offered to donate several of his wildlife prints to the chamber in exchange for one of his works to be chosen for the cover of the 1998 Haliburton Destination Guide.

The chamber would also sell a limited number of prints at the chamber office or at various trade shows it attends. The topic was discussed among the members but no resolutions were made.

New beginnings....new opportunities

Friday was certainly a red letter day for the residents of the Highlands. It marked the start of a new phase in the development of health care services for the area.

It was significant that the Minister of Health, Elizabeth Witmer, initially unable to attend, was on hand to participate in the ceremonies. While it is valuable to know that a new Minister of Health is aware of the needs and aspirations of the people of this community, her presence is also an indication of the government's commitment to the project.

That commitment is important because over the years, residents have, perhaps with good reason, learned to be wary of the promises made by a variety of individuals at Queen's Park. In some cases the promises were not what they initially seemed to be, were withdrawn abruptly or came with strings attached. Finally, it appears, the local Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, representing the people of the service area, and the Ministry of Health have reached an agreement that recognizes the needs of the citizens of the community. The final projects may not include everything that everyone wanted, but they nonetheless represent, workable, reasonable alternatives that will ensure health care can be delivered in modern up-to-date facilities to the citizens of the area.

The other significant feature of Friday's ceremonies is perhaps more subtle, but just as important.

Over the years, those who care have been seeking ways to bridge the gulf which seems to separate and even divide the communities of the Highlands. The joint health care services project could be the catalyst that will bring the communities together in a united, single focused effort. Just maybe, when the Minister of Health returns to snip the ribbons at these two facilities in about two years, we will find that working together will have brought us closer together and the community will be richer for it.

For the moment, at least, the community can enjoy the fact that these crucial health care projects are moving ahead for the benefit of all our citizens.

Principles worth fighting for

So, why do you think teachers are willing to create so much turmoil in the province?

Teachers, perhaps one of the most (small c) conservative groups in Ontario...teachers, one of the largest, highly educated, thoughtful groups in our province, people whose mission is to make this world a better place by nurturing our young people through their formative years. There are few true radicals here. What is it that makes them so angry, that they are willing to risk their security, and, as a writer opposite points out, their reputations as examples to their students and the community?

Another writer opposite may have hit the nail on the head. Lynn Peterson of the Ontario Public School Boards' Association says, "...Bill 160 is an unprecedented piece of legislation because it confers arbitrary and unregulated powers to the Minister and the Cabinet to direct and control every aspect of education. It is not acceptable. Every major decision will be done through regulation, not legislation, behind closed doors, without consultation, and without the ability of parents, MPP's, or even the courts to stop them."

Powerful words from an organization which has announced it does not condone the teachers' walk-out and which represents the very bodies to whom the teachers have an obligation. Similar concerns have been expressed by a variety of groups across the province, groups who are disturbed this massive concentration of control over all aspects of education in unaccountable hands.

Those who oppose the teachers' action take the easy route of painting the protest as fight over turf, as teachers wanting to protect their bargaining rights, as a squabble over preparation time and class sizes. While these issues obviously are of interest to the teachers, the protest is being driven not by these matters, but rather by a genuine concern for the future of public education in Ontario.

We believe that thoughtful people in this province understand why the teachers have been forced to take this drastic and yes, illegal, action. We also believe the teachers deserve the community's support and understanding as they fight to protect the fundamental principles that underpin our public education system.

A tug of war--using the children as a rope

Editor:

I have grave concerns about the long-term effects a teachers' strike will have on the students of Ontario.

Before I go on, let me start by making two statements. First, I didn't vote for the guy, and second, I don't profess to know who's "right" in this dispute...my guess is that the right answer lies somewhere in the middle ground.

At the beginning of each school year our daughters have brought home a package of school rules. With it there are forms to sign acknowledging their responsibilities as students...a contract, so to speak, with the school. As I recall this materials lists codes of dress and behaviour. It also explains the consequences of any breach of this contract.

Now the teachers themselves are about to breach their own contract with their employer, the people of Ontario. What hypocrisy!

Throughout their school career, students are told not to yield to peer pressure, particularly where it could lead to doing something wrong. Yet here are their trusted leaders, the teachers themselves, about to be led by their own peers into an illegal strike. Talk about your double standards!

It is discouraging to watch our education professionals stoop to the tactics of common labour/trade unionists to try to make their point. Surely, if the teachers are so right and the government so wrong, their one hundred and twenty-five thousand collective intellectual minds could have come up with an original, creative or imaginative method to make their point...to win the government's support, not to take it on in a tug-of-war, using our kids as the rope.

Following a strike, how can our students be expected to respect their teachers having watched the "do as I say, not as I do" principle acted out in public? Or will students have to adjust their standards downward and carry on in a perpetually adversarial environment?

To those in support of a strike, please think of what's at stake here. It takes a lifetime to win and keep someone's respect, but it only takes an instant to lose it forever.

David Ferguson,
Minden

No support for the strike or for the legislation: OPSBA

Ontario Public School Boards' Association (OPSBA) president Lynn Peterson has re-emphasized that school boards do not condone the illegal strike announced by the teacher for October 27.

"It is unfortunate that we find ourselves in this situation. As a parent, I understand the difficult situation families will find themselves in to make alternative arrangements in communities where schools will close," said Peterson. "As the association that represents the employers of school teachers, we cannot be in favour of any illegal actions. But let's be clear. This strike is not against the boards. It's against the government and the proposed legislation."

OPSBA made public its position in a presentation and submission to the standing Committee on Justice. The Association finds Bill 160 to be an unprecedented piece of legislation because it confers arbitrary and unregulated powers to the Minister and the Cabinet to direct and control every aspect of education. It is not acceptable. Every major decision will be done through regulation, not legislation, behind closed doors without consultation, and without the ability of parents, MPP's or even the courts to stop them.

The Association has great concerns over the lack of a new funding model for

Picking on the men & women in blue

I have never seen a situation so dismal that a policeman couldn't make it worse.

Brendan Behan

Ah, the poor old Fuzz. They can't win for losing. Here you have a group of men and women willing to put their lives on the line for a fairly paltry paycheque and what do they get? Sneers. Jibes. Put-downs.

There's a story going around about a guy who witnesses a brute of a thug putting the boots to his (the thug's) wife. So the guy phones the police station, only to be told by an answering service that "no officer is available to take your call, but if you'll leave your name and number, the first available agent will get back to you."

To hell with that, thinks the guy who hangs up and — inspirationally — calls the local Dunkin' Donuts outlet.

"Let me speak to a police officer please" he tells the server droid who answers. Within seconds a cop is on the phone, and a squad car is dispatched to the scene of the crime.

Great story — but bogus. It's an Urban Legend — one of those stories that's so good it ought to be true, but isn't.

The fact is, we, the public are pre-disposed to snicker at cops. It helps us to feel superior. Cops, after all, are the folks who can flag us down on the highway, stop us in the shopping mall or pretty much pull us up anywhere they like and lecture us for misbehaviour like no one has lectured us since we were in knee pants in front of our mother.

Which helps to explain the public glee that greeted a story which appeared in newspapers around the world last month:

New London, Conn: A city that doesn't want police officers with 'too high an IQ' has been sued by an applicant who lost a job because of his high score on an intelligence test. Robert Jordan claims the city of New London, Connecticut, discriminated against him based on his intelligence and violated his constitutional rights. He says an assistant manager told him: 'We don't like to hire people that have too high an IQ to be cops in this city'. 'I know I would be a good cop' says Jordan, 'but I had the misfortune of selecting too many correct answers'.

A would-be cop who was too smart to be a cop. Perfect. Fits right into the Urban Legend.

Why is it we the public — we fat burghers, who take it for granted that the cops will always be there to do our dirty work — feel such delight when we read stories like the foregoing?

Or the following: An old lady is driving along the highway, steering with her elbows as she knits away. She is swerving all over the road. A highway patrolman pulls alongside and shouts through the bullhorn "PULL OVER!"

The little old lady looks up smiling and says "No, it's socks, actually."

But cops aren't always the brunt of the joke. There was another story in the papers last month about a British Columbia motorist who was nabbed in an automated speed trap that measured his speed by radar and photographed his car. He was notified by mail, receiving a photo of his car and a ticket for $100.

Being a lawyer and therefore an exceedingly clever fellow, the driver sent the police department a photograph of a one hundred dollar bill.

Several days later, he received another letter from the police department. It contained another photograph. Of a pair of handcuffs.

Petition asks for stop lights at Carnarvon intersection

A Halls Lake resident is petitioning the Ministry of Transportation to install traffic lights at the intersection of highways 35 and 118 at Carnarvon. For the last three years, Myrna McCarthy has been asking the MTO to listen to her, and now almost five hundred people have put their names forward in support of her fight.

In 1994, McCarthy contacted the ministry about her concern for safety at the intersection as well as the stretch of Highway 35 between county road 13 and Buckslide Road. She feels that many drivers drive too fast through this area and that the speed limit should be reduced to 70 kilometres per hour. "Just drive along there and you will see what I mean," said McCarthy.

The MTO reviewed both areas and concluded, in a letter to Mrs. McCarthy, that traffic signals were not warranted and may even increase the number of rear end collisions at the intersection. The letter also stated that a reduced speed limit on highway 35 was unnecessary. "There have been quite a few accidents there," she said. "How many people have to be injured? How many accidents does there have to be?"

Mrs. McCarthy has kept in close contact with Ministry officials and was told that she could start a petition to gain support for her cause. Already 422 people have signed the petition, from Norland, Buttermilk Falls, Dorset and Minden. McCarthy also plans to take her appeal to the Haliburton area as well. "I think that this is something we have to follow through," she said. McCarthy states that both the councils of Stanhope and Anson, Hindon and Minden are aware of her petition.

The Ministry of Transportation has told Mrs. McCarthy that she can send in her signatures and they will be kept on file for future consideration.

education. OPSBA believes the model must provide sufficient funds to provide programs and services to meet the needs of all our students, in the only system that serves everyone who walks through its doors.

Added Peterson, "we all agree that nobody wants a strike. If one does occur, the safety of our children will be our highest priority. Local school boards are accountable and responsible, and will act appropriately within their communities. They will act with the safety of the children in mind."

OPSBA sent information to member boards weeks ago describing legal obligations and options in the event of a strike. While the information did offer a range of disciplinary actions for boards to take, decisions will be made locally by the boards to reflect the local needs and interests of the communities....

45-0 over I.E. Weldon

Seniors win Kawartha West title

I.E. Weldon 45-0 on Friday afternoon to clinch the Kawartha West Championship.

"It was a career day for Ryan Anderson." That is the way football coach Gary Brohman described the performance of the young player following the game on Friday. Anderson scored four touchdowns to lead the team to the Kawartha West title and a 45-0 win over I.E. Weldon of Lindsay.

Anderson score one TD in the third quarter and three more in the final quarter to seal the victory for the Redmen.

Despite the lopsided win, Brohman said the visitors played very well. "We wore them down and it showed in the final quarter when we put the game out of reach," Brohman commented. "They played well and were much stronger than our first meeting."

There was no doubt the coaching staff, led by Tim Davies, was pleased with the win. It caps off a 7-0 record on the season.

The final jewel in the Redmen's crown may have to wait for a while, however. The team would have advanced to the COSSA championship, meeting either Crestwood or Kenner high school of Peterborough. However, with the teachers' strike, the chance to play that game will depend on the length of the walk-out and the weather.

"We have told the coaches of those teams that we would be willing to play any time, anywhere and in any weather, once the strike is over," Brohman said. While the coaches have accepted that invitation, the longer the strike drags on the more problematic it becomes for that to happen.

Redmen coaches travelled to Peterborough Saturday afternoon to watch the play-off match between the two Peterborough schools and do a little scouting. While the outcome was uncertain as of press time, it was expected that Crestwood would likely be the

Senior field hockey team loses 1-0

Tough loss ends seniors' season

There were tears and disappointment in Haliburton last Friday evening as the HHHS senior girls field hockey team returned home from a 1-0 loss to Lakefield College School in the COSSA championship. After a 55 minute shut out, Lakefield was able to score on a penalty stroke and kept Haliburton scoreless for the remainder of the game.

"The girls were very disappointed," said coach Kit Pizzey. "But the level of game play remained. In fact they probably played a tougher game after the goal." Pizzey is proud of the team's hard work and never-give-up attitude. "They played an extremely good game. It was probably the best I've ever had a team play," she said.

The championship was the finale of a string of games played by the team last week. Haliburton defeated Thomas A. Stewart 1-0 thanks to an unassisted goal by Meg Agnew.

In the next game Hal Hi used their strong offensive skills to beat Crestwood Secondary with three goals by Jen Turner, Amber-Lee Cully and Brittney Hewitt. The team played a back to back match against reigning Ontario champions Adam Scott Collegiate and lost 1-0. On Wednesday Haliburton qualified for COSSA by defeating Port Hope's Trinity College School 1-0 with a goal by Jen Turner.

Coach Pizzey attributes the team's success to both a strong offense and defense. She feels that despite the loss on Friday, the players turned in an excellent game and should be proud of their tremendous work this season.

"It was a real team effort. They just kept pushing and never gave up. It's tough to work that hard and not win," she said. "After the game there were a lot of tears and picture taking." This was the last game for six team members who will be graduating this year.

Novice Bs tie Fenelon Falls 4-4 in well-played game

--submitted--

On Saturday October 18, the Minden Monarch Novice B's travelled to Fenelon Falls for the second game of the season. They have been practising very hard to learn their positions and play together as a team.

Fenelon came out strong and scored less than two minutes into the game. But Minden came back and outplayed them for the rest of the first period. Kyle Fry filled-in on defence and would not let the puck out of Fenelon's end. Billy Kulas and Jason Loughheed took shot after shot but just couldn't get one into the net. Matt Clements fired a slapshot from the point that dinged off the post.

In the second period, Minden continued to dominate the play, but just couldn't get the puck past the hot Fenelon goalie. Minden got caught on a change-up and Fenelon took the break-away and went ahead 2-0. Thirty seconds later, Sherri Walker picked up the puck from Mackie Campbell, flew by the Fenelon defense and put Minden on the scoreboard.

That goal seemed to wake up the Minden team as Brent Doiron and Stephen Roome played solid defense. Sherri Walker assisted by Kulas and Loughheed tied it up just one minute into the third period, then quickly put Minden into the lead with a wrap around from Michael Toye.

Fenelon managed a break-away halfway through the third to tie up the game. Then Walker and Campbell carried the puck into the Fenelon end and Sherri poked it in to take the lead with only two minutes left.

In the last 30 seconds, Fenelon pulled their goalie. A face off in the Minden end and the extra man were all Fenelon needed to tie it up in the last second of the game. The final score was 4-4.

Congratulations to Mike Fisher on a strong and confident game in net for Minden.

Redmen claim Kawartha West

team the Redmen would be facing, if and when a game is played.

In addition to Anderson's outstanding performance Friday afternoon other goal scorers included: Matt Reid who picked off a pass from George Godfrey in the first quarter; Godfrey who kicked the convert; and a TD by Greg Simmons in the second quarter to end the half 13-0.

Anderson scored one TD in the third quarter and three in the final to end the onslaught.

Key interceptions by Allan Pugh, Chris Moynes, who ran 50 yards for a third quarter touchdown, Jason Henry and Greg Simmons, helped to keep the game moving in the Redmen's favour.

The score was boosted by two conversions kicked by Darren Mills.

According to Gary Brohman, some of the outstanding players on the defensive squad included Quinton McCormick, Chris Moynes and Jason Henry.

So, with the Kawartha West title under their belts, the team will now have to wait to see if it will be able to complete the football season this fall and claim the COSSA title.

Minden Food Bank benefits from hunter error (and honesty)

The Ministry of Natural Resources gave the Minden Community Food Bank a hefty donation last week. The food bank received a moose which had been seized from hunters on Monday.

Two cow moose were mistaken for calves and accidentally shot north of Haliburton. Hunters notified the ministry of their mistake and came forward to pay the $245 per moose fine. "When hunting laws are broken we can seize things involved in the offense," said Bob Gater, a conservation officer with the MNR.

Usually if hunters are caught breaking the law and do not co-operate, not only will they be fined, they can have their hunting licenses revoked and firearms seized. "They did the right thing and acted responsibly," said Barry Walker another Conservation Officer with the Ministry of Natural Resources. "They were fully prepared to pay the fine."

After the moose were confiscated, Walker contacted Linda Robitaille, a volunteer at the Minden Community Food Bank and said that the ministry would give the moose to the food bank if they could find someone to butcher the meat. The food bank approached IGA Butcher Nick Joanu who offered to cut and wrap the meat.

This will be the first time the Minden Community Food Bank has been able to provide meat to its recipients. The other moose is being donated to the Bracebridge Shriners club for a wild game fundraising dinner.

Mary Hicks, chair of the food bank, said that the meat will be put to good use as the number of food bank users has been on the increase since the end of the summer. "Our numbers are growing. The moose will be a big help."

The Minden Community Food Bank is open Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon and Wednesdays from noon to 5 p.m. Also, there will be an information and brainstorming session planned for October 30 from 1 to 3 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Minden United Church. Everyone is welcome to come and discuss ideas about the food bank. For more information, or to volunteer, call the food bank at 286-6404.

Home Support to establish elder abuse committee

Reducing the risk of elder abuse was the topic of a presentation given Friday at Minden's Staunworth Terrace. The seminar was aimed at educating seniors on how to protect themselves from financial, physical and emotional abuse.

Haliburton County Home Support Services sponsored the event both to educate Minden area seniors and to announce plans to organize a county-wide elder abuse committee. It is hoped that seniors organizations from across the county will participate. "We have some work cut out for us to get things started," said Home Support Services President Bob Mitchell. "We want to co-ordinate these groups and start to educate people."

A presentation was given by Marianne Scarf and Irene Caufield-Cook of the Sudbury Elder Abuse Committee, whose organization has been working to protect seniors since 1989. Scarf is in charge of seniors banking for the Royal Bank in Sudbury and Caufield-Cook works for the victims services branch of the Sudbury Regional Police. Caufield-Cook stated that she felt Haliburton County could profit from the creation of an elder

Galway-Cavendish-Harvey candidates hope to make it work

Working to make one municipality is the focus of all three candidates running for Reeve in Galway-Cavendish and Harvey townships.

The townships are being amalgamated into one municipality which means taking two of everything and making one functioning administration. The candidates agree that the first priority after the election will be to create a team of members to create a system of doing business that accommodates the needs of all three townships.

Bruce Fleury is the sole Galway-Cavendish contestant for Reeve. He is a member of the Galway Ratepayers association and is the Commissioner of Recreation Parks and Culture for the city of Scarborough. Fleury believes that the immediate task ahead of the new council will be in setting up an effective administrative system. "The transition is a concern. There is just so much to do. The staff, the technology. We have to bring the municipality together," said Fleury.

"My main concern is to maintain the quality of service each township is used to," said Tom Flynn, the current Reeve of Harvey Township as well as the Warden of Peterborough County. Both Fleury and Flynn cited examples such as public works and office technology that will have to be reviewed and amended to meet the needs of the municipality as a whole.

Bev Matthews feels that a team effort is the only way a sound government can be created in the municipality. Matthews is currently a Councillor for Harvey Township, a resort operator and a substitute teacher with the Victoria County School Board. "I believe that council should share the workload. Team decisions, in my opinion are better than anything else," she said. Matthews also spoke of her feelings on Galway-Cavendish leaving Peterborough County and perhaps joining Haliburton County. "I think we should look for the best answer. If Galway-Cavendish moving to Haliburton (County) is the best answer, then so be it."

There are also fourteen other candidates running in the Galway-Cavendish and Harvey race. In addition to the position of Reeve Audrey Coumbs, Don Lacombe and Oliver Lloyd are running for Deputy Reeve. As well Don Bowles, Ed Dewhurst, Peter Franzen and Ron Windover are campaigning to become the Councillor at Large. Mary Lou Bales, Madelaine Pearson and Guy Scott are running to represent Galway Cavendish and Roy Hill, John Snider, Bruce Tate and Audrey Von Bogen are running for Councillor for Harvey.

Economic development is high on list for Cardiff candidates

The candidates running for office in Cardiff township want to see economic development in the area. They believe that a strong tax base and year round employment is going to be the key to success in Cardiff.

Douglas Holman has served one term as the Deputy Reeve of Cardiff Township. He feels his recent experience will be crucial to the council as it deals with the downloading of services. Holman is also concerned about the township's use of dust suppressant on roads. "One thing we need to look at is a better solution for dust control that is economically and environmentally sound," he said.

Holman's competition for the Reeve' chair, Keith Murphy, has served both as a Councillor and Deputy Reeve for Cardiff. After several people approached him to run for the position of Reeve, he decided to throw his hat in the ring once more.

Murphy would like to see improvements made to Cardiff's environmental standards. "I got the impression that this past council's only interest was saving money," said Murphy. "That's very wise but it didn't seem to accomplish anything. I think that environmental protection is lacking and we need to be more progressive."

Two for Deputy Reeve

There is also a two-man race for Deputy Reeve in Cardiff. Newcomer Ian Whillans wants to bring fresh ideas to council while Thomas Elliott, the current Reeve will have over 40 years of experience behind him.

Whillans, who works in construction for the Municipality of Durham says he has many ideas on economic development for the township and how it should be carried out. "There is a great need for technical experience for development in Cardiff. My concern is that with all of the downloading we are going to need a bigger tax base."

Thomas Elliott prefers to rely on his work as a Councillor, a Road Supervisor and as the Reeve for the past six years. "I think that people should know where I stand by now," he said.

Councillors

There are five contenders running for the three Councillors positions and each feel, that economic development will play a crucial part in the future of Cardiff. Although they agree on the issues, everyone wants to bring a different perspective to the table.

Helen McIntyre is a council veteran who would like to make Cardiff more attractive to seniors looking for a retirement home.

Incumbent Des Noblett said "I look at both sides of the fence and come up with a good solution for everyone."

Gary Burroughs from Highland Grove wants to make sure that the northern regions of the townships are represented on council.

Susan Partridge feels that council should communicate more and proposed that the township create a newsletter to inform ratepayers of any important information.

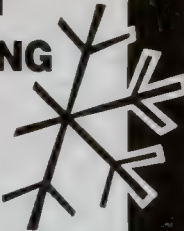

OPP Sergeant John Hattin feels that growth can only be achieved through "...Actively promoting the area to industry."

For those who would like to meet the Cardiff council hopefuls, there will be an all candidates meeting for Cardiff Township tonight (October 27) at the Reform Church on Highway 648. The meeting starts at 7 p.m. and everyone is welcome.

More cats reported missing

More cats have mysteriously disappeared from Minden in the last two weeks. Mrs. Edith Smith of Orde Street said that she has lost at least six more cats and is concerned that she will continue to lose even more.

"It's just heart-breaking to lose them. They were just beautiful," said Mrs. Smith. She has lost at least 16 cats in the past month, bringing the total of Minden's missing felines to approximately 24. Although Mrs. Smith ensures her indoor cats are brought into the house at night, she has many others that prefer to stay outside. "There are still a few that are just too shy to come in," she said.

It is believed that the cats have been taken by a predator such as a coyote or a fox. Mrs. Smith wondered why so many local area felines have fallen prey to wild animals. "What is happening to these animals' usual food supply? This is a very bad business."

A number of families along Deep Bay Road, west of where Mrs. Smith lives, have reported the disappearance of family pet cats in the past few weeks.

Since it first appeared in The Times, the story about the cats has sparked a great deal of media interest. Numerous radio stations have called for updates and several television news crews have been in the area to report on the mystery surrounding the missing cats.

YOA under federal review

Parliament's first legislation in relation to young offenders was in 1908 when it adopted the Juvenile Delinquents Act. Following a series of reviews in the 1960's and 1970's, the current Young Offenders Act (YOA) was adopted in 1982 and came into full force in 1985. Since then, it was amended in 1986, 1992 and 1995, and then reviewed by the House of Commons Justice Committee, which reported its findings in April 1997.

Despite all this activity, many Canadians continue to express insecurity and discontent over a law they see as being too lenient in dealing with unacceptable levels of youth crime. Others see the problem as not lying in the legislative response to offending behaviour, but rather in an insufficient level of resources committed to crime prevention and the youth justice system itself.

The YOA was adopted by Parliament under its criminal law jurisdiction and is administered by the provinces and territories under their administration of justice power. It provides a legislative system for dealing with criminal offenses committed by young persons over the age of 12 and under 18; those under 12 cannot be dealt with by the youth justice system, while those over 18 are processed by the ordinary criminal justice system. Exceptions to these ages can be found in the Act's provisions for transfer (which apply to those over 14 alleged to have committed an indictable offence) or presumptive transfer (which apply to those over 16 alleged to have committed one or more of four serious offenses).

The Act contains alternative measures allowing for young offenders to be diverted out of the formal court and corrections process. Youth Court proceedings are generally open to the public, but there are limitations on the publication of information leading to the identification of a young offender.

Sentencing judges dealing with young offenders are provided with available dispositions ranging from absolute discharges to custody in open or secure facilities. The YOA has special rules on maximum sentences; those convicted in Youth Court of criminal offenses that are subject to life imprisonment as a maximum penalty if committed by an adult are subject to a maximum three-year disposition, while those convicted of other offenses are subject to a two-year maximum disposition. Other sentence lengths apply to transferred and untransferred young offenders convicted of murder offenses.

Much youth offending is both minor and temporary; only a minority of young offenders

Young offenders in Canada are processed through the youth justice system and subjected to custodial dispositions at rates higher than in other countries.

It can be expected that the following issues, among others, will be considered and debated in this Parliament:

- early, community-based interventions (before the onset of established offending behaviour);

Will there be quality health care when you need it?

All of us in Ontario are concerned about the future of our health care. What we really want to know is, if I get sick, will there be a health care system in place to look after me and my family? And where and how will we get that care?

The Hospitals of Ontario are working hard to do what we have always done: deliver high quality health care. Today, new discoveries, new drugs and new technologies mean we can deliver care in many different ways. What used to mean a two-week hospital stay now takes just one or two days. And many treatments can now be provided outside of hospitals.

So the Hospitals of Ontario are developing new ways of providing health care and building partnerships to provide care in the community. And we believe we can maintain the quality of health care on one crucial condition: that we don't move too far, too fast. Community services must be in place so you can continue to receive the care you need.

The Hospitals of Ontario know what it means to make changes. We've been leaders of change for years. But change that moves too quickly without making sure every piece of the puzzle is in place is not the answer. And above all, we want to make sure your health care system is there for you when you need it.

Want to know more about how hospitals are changing?

Council will not back Bat Lake motor ban

The following is a summary of some of the items discussed at the October 23 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

Council will support forest capital bid

The council of Anson, Hindon and Minden will send a letter of recommendation to the Haliburton Highlands Stewardship council. The Stewardship council is preparing a bid to have the Highlands designated the Forest Capital of Canada in the year 2000. Council voted unanimously to support the bid.

Bat Lake restriction denied

Bat Lake property owners will be able to keep their motors running next summer as a proposal to restrict gas powered engines was denied by the council.

A petition had been sent to council by the Bat Lake Ratepayers Association, as well as letters of concern. However, the council learned that not all lakeshore property owners on Bat Lake feel that motors should be banned.

Angelo Delfavero addressed council and stated that he enjoys using his small motor on the lake. Delfavero suggested a restriction could be placed on motors over 9.9 horsepower. "I don't know why I have to lose the opportunity to enjoy myself," he said.

Councillor Daryl Moore stated that this issue had been discussed previously and council felt that without one hundred per cent of the Bat Lake population in agreement, a restriction would not be put in place. Council voted unanimously not to act on the request to restrict motors on Bat Lake.

Council shows interest in work program

ported on a presentation she attended last week concerning the Ontario Works program. The program involves able bodied individuals who are receiving welfare working on projects with municipalities, non-profit groups and service clubs. Anthon said that she was impressed with the presentation and felt it would be a positive step. "I think it's worth looking into," she said. "We will keep this in mind."

Dick Kirkwood marks his 90th

A lot has changed in Minden in the last 90 years. It has grown from a muddy little town with wooden sidewalks to a thriving rural community and one man who has helped along the way is Dick Kirkwood.

The long time Minden resident will be turning 90 years old on November 4, a feat that amazes even himself. "In my day if you lived to be 70 years old you were an old, old man," says Kirkwood. "But if you've got your health then you've got just about everything."

Although Mr. Kirkwood is bashful about the subject of his longevity, his wife of 63 years, Laura, is not. "It is quite an achievement to reach 90 years," she says. "Usually all you do is see your friends at the undertakers at our age."

The history of the Minden area is a favorite subject of Dick Kirkwood. Beside his chair in the living room are scrapbooks and photo albums that are a constant reminder of the roots of the community he loves. "I have no desire to live anywhere else. The beauty of the area is so great. The beauty of the river...."

Mr. Kirkwood has been recognized for his many contributions to Minden. He helped to build the museum complex and has volunteered at Hyland Crest for many years. He was the 1994 Senior of the Year in Anson, Hindon and Minden and was also chosen as one of 20 Outstanding Seniors across Ontario. "It's nice to be remembered," says Kirkwood.

Mr. Kirkwood will surely be remembered and congratulated at his birthday party on November 1 at the United Church in Minden. He may even wear the suit he was married in because it still fits him.

Dick Kirkwood, who has spent most of life in Minden, turns 90 next week. An open house and birthday celebration will be held November 1 at Minden United Church from 2 to 4 p.m.

Knowledge will help seniors spot scams abuse committee. "I think you will find it a great benefit to set up this kind of committee," she said.

The presentation focused mainly on how seniors can protect themselves against financial scams. Both women stressed that knowledge is empowering and by using common sense, anyone can safeguard themselves against abuse. Some of their tips included:

- * If a company claims you have won a contest but must send money in order to collect your prize, it is most likely a setup.

- * If you feel you are being pressured into buying something you don't really need by an aggressive telemarketer, just hang up. According to Marianne

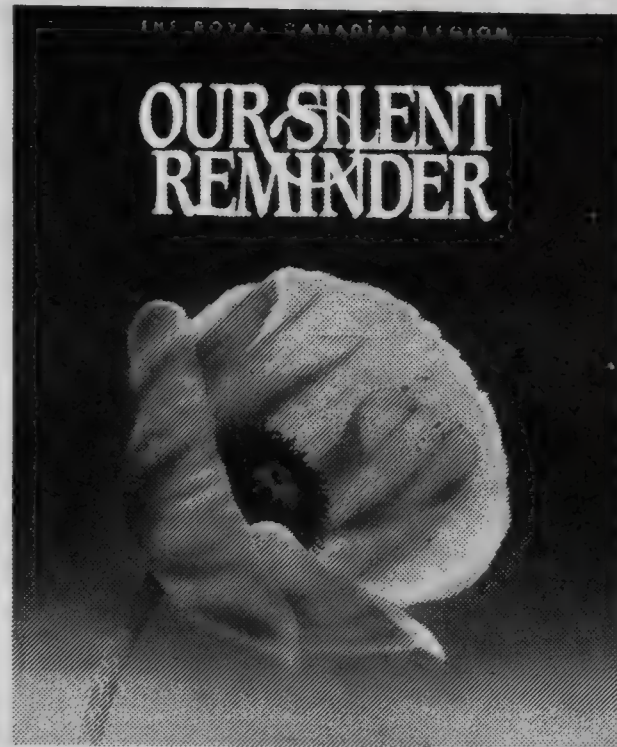

Scarf, "The longer they keep you on the phone the more likely you are going to get taken."

- * If a charity that you have never heard of or are unsure of asks for a donation ask them to send you information before you give them any money.

- * If it sounds too good to be true-- it probably is.

Many people in the audience were impressed with the seminar including Haliburton County Home Support Services Director Ruth Still. Still is the chair of the elder abuse sub-committee for HCHSS and has been in contact with several organizations in the county who she hopes can become involved.

"Until a short time ago I never would guessed that this was such a problem," said Still. "We hope to provide an avenue for help."

Geoffrey Karl Zinner and Veronica Lynn Jordan were married at St. Peters Anglican Church on Sat. Sept. 29, 1997. Wendy Anderson, was Matron of Honour, Jamie Zinner, Best Man, Lee Ann Hodgson & Natalie Anderson, Bridesmaids, with Rachel Anderson, Flower Girl. Ushers were William Zinner & Robin Jon Zinner, while David Jordan was the Ringbearer. Readings were given by Nancy Zinner + the Bride's adoptive mother Barbara Trocewicz. The Service was performed by Rev. Brian D. Parker and music provided by Ann McAdam.

Pirate adventure and a treasure hunt awaits young people

--submitted--

The Haliburton County Children's Concert Series announces the first performance of a four part performance package.

Starting on November 2, the Join Hand Puppeteers with Capt'n Matts Treasure Hunt.

Capt'n Matt will take you on a treasure hunt filled with grand adventure!

You will encounter magical puppet characters such as Cracker the Noisy Parrot, Bingo the dog, the Tricky gefilte fish and even a sharp toothed ravenous Tyrannosaurus Rex.

The Adventure is seasoned with songs and stories and ends in victory when Stink Beard the Pirate hands over the treasure map. Led by Cap'n Matt, the children follow the map's directions to the hidden treasure. The chest is "dug up", opened and the magic storybook is found inside. Its magic pop-up pages retell the children's own story of their adventure.

The show promises laughter and participation!

This is the fourth time Join Hand Puppeteers will entertain the families of Haliburton County and again promises to be a great success. So don't miss out on this terrific show.

You can purchase a series pass for $18.00 or join us for the one show for $8 per person at the door. Either way, you can't lose!

Local bands making their mark

by Jamie Read,
HHSS student reporter

For the past few years, Haliburton County has heard many of its local youth bands perform, demonstrating their exceptional musical abilities and showing that music is more than just sound.

Bands like Alderaan, Arlo, ShovelStick, and Hardwire have proven that the breadth of their intellectual, physical, and spiritual commitment to their music has resulted in success.

One example of this triumph was the Lotus Festival which took place at Glebe Park in Haliburton this past summer.

These youths have proven a significant point: musical ability isn't something you learn, it's something you're born with; all you need to know is how to bring it out and use it to the best of your ability.

One local group of teens which prove this point is "Halfpint". The group includes local teens Jeremy McDuff, Ryan Lindsey, Matt Thompson, and Dan Vanderlip.

Although the band has only been playing together for a month, at homes or in garages, it is obvious when these four get together the result is one amazing concept. They have plans to continue performing and are very optimistic about the future.

"We are all on the same intellectual level when it comes to our music. When we write a song, and then finally get the chance to play it, it's such a rush, our energy level is incredible. There is really nothing like it," says a member of the band.

Although they want people to react to their music, they don't write lyrics that connect with the listeners mind. They want something that will connect them through body and soul.

"When we perform, we get an even bigger rush from seeing all the people pumped. We not only want people to hear our music, but also feel the energy through the sound of our music. All the energy combined and you've got one incredible connection. We hope that we are appreciated for the level of energy we put into all of our songs."

The four musicians describe their sound as "punk", "thrash", very heavy, and say their music is inspired by daily happenings, events, and other music.

Halfpint is still in the works, but be prepared to hear more of them in the near future.

Congratulations to fellow local bands Arlo, (which includes Morgan Talaba, Neil Paul, Donald Todd, and Ian Milligan), and Hardwire, (Ryan Lindsey, Greg Luck, Jamie Henderson, and Ben Ripley).

The two bands are scheduled to play at the University of Toronto on November 22.

O'Reilly selected

trust in me as Chair and for the support needed to create this caucus.

This group was necessary as Central Ontario's needs differ from those of the Greater Toronto Area and Eastern Ontario. I was part of Eastern Ontario Caucus which includes the Ottawa area. Victoria-Haliburton's issues and needs are far different from those of most of Eastern Ontario," stated Mr. O'Reilly.

The Central Ontario Caucus is made up of 14 M.P.'s and includes 2 Cabinet Ministers and 4 Parliamentary Secretaries. This caucus reports to the Ontario Caucus which reports to National Caucus. The Central Ontario Caucus meets every Tuesday and Mr. O'Reilly reports to the Ontario Caucus with a briefing of the policies and ideas of the Central Ontario Caucus.

Key discussions will focus on topics that affect Central Ontario. Some of those topics include: Tourism, the Trent-Severn Waterway, Bell Canada, Agriculture, Environment and rural issues.

Caucus members include: M.P.'s Peter Adams, Peterborough; Paul Bonwick, Simcoe-Grey; Murray Calder, Dufferin-Peel-Wellington-Grey; Aileen Carroll, Barrie-Simcoe-Bradford; Paul DeVillers, Simcoe North; Ivan Grose Oshawa; Ovid Jackson Bruce-Grey; Karen Kraft-Sloan, York North; Judi Longfield, Whitby-Ajax; Dan McTeague, Pickering-Ajax-Uxbridge; Hon. Hodgson proud of legacy at MNR

In the recent Ontario cabinet shuffle, I was moved from the Ministry of Natural Resources to Chair of Management Board and Deputy House Leader, while retaining the Ministry of Northern Development and Mines. This will bring new challenges managing government operations and I look forward to these new challenges.

I enjoyed working with the people at the MNR. Together, I believe we made some important changes in the past two and a half years.

For example, we were able to create a special fund for Fish and Wildlife revenues. This ensures that every dollar raised from hunting and fishing fees, fines and royalties—including money from the Outdoors Card—goes back into fish and wildlife programs.

As well, we established a Fish and Wildlife Advisory Board, to provide input on how those dollars should best be spent. The board, which included Pat Kennedy of Haliburton, gave me important advice for a number of projects, including the launch of Take a Kid Fishing Week—a promotion that has helped more young people learn about fishing and learn to love the outdoors.

Our ministry also created a special fund for parks revenues, ensuring that every dollar raised at our parks goes back into the parks system. This will lead to further improvements and promotion of our parks, one of the finest parks systems in North America.

In other areas, the MNR stepped up a number of its

Queen's Park Report

by Chris Hodgson, MPP

fish-stocking programs, and we were able to expand the deer-hunting opportunities in Ontario.

Personally, I was always very impressed by the work done by our firefighters—we have first-rate firefighters who obviously love their work. And they do it well.

I was also impressed by the ministry's efforts as we sought a renewed focus on customer service. We worked hard to ensure that people who called the MNR got the answers they needed and in a timely fashion.

We are fortunate to live in this province with its vast wilderness and tremendous opportunities to enjoy the outdoors. It is important to manage our resources, so that future generations can share our love for our province's natural beauty.

It was a busy time for everyone at the MNR, but I really enjoyed the experience. I offer everyone at the MNR my best wishes and sincere thanks.

Some of the members of the clean-up crew from the Anglican Parish of Minden and Kinmount pause during their work bee Saturday October 18 to pose below a sign indicating they have adopted a stretch of Highway 35 north of Minden. The volunteers cleaned the litter from the road-side. They include, from the left, Fr. Brian Parker, Joan Parker, Alyssa Belcher, Katie Parker, Barbara Trocewicz, Mike Belcher and Joshua Belcher. They uncovered enough litter to fill 45 bags, in their two kilometre stretch of the highway.

Church adopts two km of highway

Volunteers are cleaning up along 35

On Saturday, October 18, members of the Anglican Parish of Minden-Kinmount were out cleaning up the roadside, in a new form of outreach.

This past summer the parish adopted a two kilometre stretch of Highway 35 just north of Minden. Part of the responsibilities include cleaning up both sides of the roadway at least three times per year. The first clean-up was done following the Thanksgiving weekend, to clean up after a long summer and prepare for winter.

There are many more volunteers from the parish who have signed up to take care of the stretch of adopted highway. In all, five hours were spent picking up about 45 bags of litter including pop cans, styrofoam cups, paper, plastic, beer bottles and other articles of garbage which seem to have strayed from trucks or trailers on the way to the local dump.

The money from the beer bottle returns will be donated to St. Paul's rebuilding fund. (We offer special thanks to the Subaru dealer for the coffees.) Further clean-ups will be scheduled for the spring and summer of 1998.

Arrangements for adopting a stretch of local highway can be made through the Ministry of Transport in Huntsville. Together, we are asking all our residents and visitors to refrain from littering.

Reverend Burgess thanked at 'surprise' tea

Well, it was bound to happen, sooner than later. Our first snow of the season. But we must not complain; our Fall has been just beautiful and who knows, maybe there will be good days yet.

On the 17th, Burt Bonnell was here with us at Happy Hour and the following day we enjoyed the music of Gord Kennedy on piano. We know we have mentioned it before, but we are very appreciative of all the lovely music provided us by the musical groups and individuals. You bring pleasure to us and brighten our days.

We were saddened to hear of the death of Jean Steinberg. Our sympathy to her family and friends.

Well, our "surprise" Appreciation Tea on Sunday (19th) for Rev. Burgess was exactly that. A surprise. Every one of us stayed "mum" about the event. Quite an accomplishment with so many of us knowing. The place was packed, as we all wanted to thank Rev. Burgess for providing us with our Sunday evening chapel for so many years. Many gifts of appreciation were presented and there were commendations from several people. A painting by local artist Gary Chapman was also presented. Jack and Ruby Foster provided the entertainment and a lovely buffet was served. It was a very pleasant afternoon. We were so glad to have the opportunity to thank Rev. Burgess and we look forward to seeing him when he visits.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Prentice whose marriage took place over the weekend.

Monday, October 20, a few of us boarded our bus to Casino Rama. It was an experience for us and some even managed to come out on top. For those of us who stayed here, we attended "Hymn Sing" which so many of us enjoy. At the same time, Marion Hill and Mary Trepanier from the United Church came to visit. It was a shame that this visit occurred at the same time as so many of us were at "Hymn Sing" and missed Marion and Mary. Please come again so we can visit.

Tuesday, Rev. Peter presided at Chapel and held communion for us. A memorial for Ruby Schmidt also took place.

Our craft group has been busy working on Hallowe'en decorations and are busily making Christmas items for our upcoming bazaar.

Wednesday, at our monthly residents council meeting, we discussed plans for Christmas. We were very pleased to receive a painting by Dick Thompson which will be raffled during Christmas. The painting is of the old barn that stood for years on the Gartshore property by Highway 35 bypass. A favourite subject for many years of numerous artists. Thank you Dick Thompson for your generosity.

The tea party on October 23 was hosted by the ladies of Haliburton Catholic Church. Our sincere thanks to them.

Before we sign off, a happy birthday to Roland Sedgewick who celebrates on October 30.

A safe and happy Hallowe'en to you. We have been busy getting bags of candy together for the 31st and look forward to seeing the youngsters in their outfits.

Bye now and keep smiling!

THE PURPOSE AND EFFECT OF BY-LAW NUMBER 22-97 OF THE UNITED TOWNSHIPS OF LAXTON, DIGBY AND LONGFORD.

The purpose of the By-law is to change the zone category on part of Lots 21 and 22, Concession 1, geographic Township of Digby, in the United Townships of Laxton, Digby and Longford from the Open Space (01) Zone to the Rural Residential Type Two Exception Three (RR2-3) Zone. The zone change will affect approximately 1.56 hectares (3.9 acres) of land, as shown on the attached Schedule 'A' as the 'LAND TO BE ZONED RR2-3'.

The effect of the By-law is to permit residential uses on five lots created by plan of subdivision and to establish a minimum water setback, a minimum opening elevation and a minimum elevation for crawl spaces specific to these lots. Full basements are prohibited in building and buildings are limited to one storey height.

St. Paul's Anglican Church, 19 North Water Street, Minden is holding its annual turkey dinner on Friday, November 7 in 2 sittings 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Bring your family, bring a friend - everyone welcome. Tickets available from Campbell's Florist or from the Church office itself.

The older a man gets, the farther he had to walk to school as a boy

The Ladies Auxillary, Branch 636, had another successful big buck euchre on Sunday, October 19. (Have you ever heard of an unsuccessful big buck euchre? They always have a good time.) First prize of $100 went to our good friend Marg McAfee with second prize to equally good friend Ken Wallace and third prize to Bill Sandford, fourth prize David Small and fifth prize Marie Dennie. Most lone hands was won by Esther Lee. The share-the-wealth draw was spread over four winners with ten lucky folks winning door prizes. Join them next on Sunday, November 16. Everyone is sure welcome.

The Santa's Store is coming to Norland in the United Church on Friday, November 7 from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturday, November 8 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Carol sing and shop on Friday and hot lunch it and shop on Saturday. Sounds like a good way to get into the spirit.

Home is where you can say just about anything 'cause nobody listens anyway.

St. Paul's Friendship Club, having had a week's rest from euchre, came back with a vengeance last week. Fern Donnelly won the most lone hands, Joan Mackenzie and Katie Parker had the high scores while Irene Fuhr had the low score. Barb Braithwaite won the 50/50 draw. Next play, on Monday, October 27 at 1:30 p.m. You better show up with your silly hat on for it's the Halloween promo.

Club 35, up there in Halls Lake, displayed a pretty good report for last week's euchre play. Mary "Again" Pearson won the 50/50 draw for the fourth time, (they're checking her fingers for honey residue), and Olive Daniels won the most lone hand award, the baloney award and the special award. Is she really that good? The high scores went to Helen Henderson and Harv Bunker and the low scores to Jean Randell and Lew Penick. Meet Mondays at 7:30 p.m. Partners are not required. Just a reminder that Club 35 will not meet for cards on election day, November 10.

A father is a man who expects his son to be as good as he meant himself to be.

Contract bridge, played last week in the Stanhope Library, produced a small slam by Vange Croucher and Helen Rice. Coming in first was Dorothy Strype, second Edith Burch and third Pearl Foster. Remember to join in the fun on Tuesdays at 1 p.m. Partners are not required.

Seniors had a good time playing bid euchre last week in the Minden Legion and coming in first was Gala Stamp, second Beverly Johnson and third Jim Cowan. The hidden score was found by Marie Dennie and moonshots were produced by Shirley Elcome and Beverly. Join them every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m.

Euchre results from Lochlin were pretty impressive last Tuesday despite that freak snow storm. High scores went to the Curry family, Betty and Don, while the low scores slipped by George Bartley and Rheta Crofts. Earl Schellenberg had the most lone hands. Join them at 7:30 p.m. in the community centre next on Tuesday, November 4 or in the Gelert Community Centre on October 28.

Stanhope Firefighters Hall announcement of bid euchre played on October 15 was quite interesting despite the capture of only 2 moonshots. Apparently Katie Parker hurried over from St. Paul's to win the big score of 305 followed by Edith Burch 278, Milton Fletcher 268, Grace Dixon 256, Gayle McConnell 256, Ida Young 252 and Earl Hayne 252. Join them every Wednesday starting at 7 p.m.

A raft of euchre winners was posted on our door this morning from the Minden Legion, Thursday, October 16: Iris and Marg and Murray MacKinnon won the most lone hands, Ellie Langpohl and Ralph Schroter had the high scores, Betty Harper and Marcel Roussel had the low scores. And a boatload of other prizes went to Pat, Milton, Tod, May and Jim. Congratulations! Meet Thursdays at 7:15 p.m.

HEALTH NEWS:

Cholesterol from A to Z (cont'd)

There are a number of reasons why a certain amount of cholesterol is important for life: first, it's part of the basic structure of the cells in our bodies; second, it helps us manufacture certain hormones; and finally, it's needed to make bile acids which help us digest our food. Cholesterol gets into our blood streams in one of two ways - through the animal products we eat (eggs, dairy foods and meat) and through our liver, which actually makes cholesterol using the simple sugars and fats from our diet.

IN MEMORIAM

BESNER, David - In loving memory of my dear husband who was taken away October 23, 1995.

His smiling way and pleasant face,

Are a pleasure to recall;

He had a kindly word for each

And died beloved by all.

Some day I hope to meet him,

Some day, I know not when,

To clasp his hand in the better land

Never to part again.

Sadly missed and always loved by Lisa.

BESNER, David - In loving memory of my dear Daddy who was taken away October 23, 1995.

Silently the angels took Daddy

Into the Mansion above,

There shall he rest from earth's toil

Safe in the arms of God's love.

Forever missed by Matthew.

BESNER, David - In loving memory of a dear son-in-law and brother-in-law who left us October 23, 1995.

In our hearts your memory lingers,

Sweetly tender, fond and true,

There is not a day dear David

That we do not think of you.

Lovingly remembered by Tom, Marilyn, and Tommy

BESNER, David - In loving memory of a dear brother-in-law who left us October 23, 1995.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance

Just a memory sad and true

Just the love and sweet devotion

Of one who thinks of you.

Always remembered by Kim.
